SUGAR BEETS IN NEED OF RAIN

Job Pingree, field superintendent of the Amalgamated Sugar company, is of the opinion that the sugar beet crop has not yet suffered to a great extent on account of the dry condition of the farms, but that a heavy fall of rain would be welcomed in all sections of the country.

"It is true that in some parts of the country," said Mr. Pingree this morning, "the farms are very dry and perhaps not more than about half of the beets will come up, but in the main, the beets are out of the ground and are looking good. Even if only half the beets are out of the ground in places it will be better to let the crop alone and pray for rain rather than to undertake to replant. The ground is very dry now and to replant would be of no avail as the second planting would not come up more readily than did the first, so there would be nothing gained."

It is said by farmers that in some instances irrigation will be resorted to, but this is not always satisfactory as it has a tendency to cause the ground to bake under the hot rays of the sun, preventing the tender plants from working through the surface. However, it is claimed that no great damage has yet been done, especially if the country should be visited by a good shower in the next week. The slight rainfall of last night was of some value, but it was not heavy enough to moisten the soil to depth.

TWENTY-YEAR-OLD GIRL STAR WITNESS IN CASE AGAINST MILLIONAIRE BIXBY

Miss Kitty Phillips.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 13.—Miss Kitty Phillips, a 20-year-old girl, is the principal witness against millionaire George H. Bixby of Long Beach, accused of assisting in luring young girls to questionable resorts.

The Phillips girl has told the jury of orgies in which girls of from 16 to 20 took part in apartment houses and roadhouses. She implicated several prominent men.

Bixby declares that he is the victim of a conspiracy; that the Phillips girl and other girls who have testified against him have done so because they failed in their efforts to blackmail him.

Other prominent and wealthy men of southern California, who are mixed up in the white slave scandal also declare that they are innocent and that the girls are trying to ruin them because of their failure to extort money by threats.

Pursuing its white slavery probe, the county grand jury called several witnesses before it today in an effort to locate two girls—Mabel Johnson and Clara St. Ives—whose testimony, it was believed, would involve prominent men of the city in prosecution for offenses against minors.

Emma J. Goodman, alias Jessie Rosenberg, alleged promiscuous, pleaded not guilty to the two indictments charging pandering which the grand jury recently returned against her, and on May 22 her trial will be set.

CHILDREN IN CATHOLIC FAITH

(Contributed)
"Suffer the little ones to come unto Me."

For such is the kingdom of Heaven." Never did these words of our blessed Lord seem to carry more significance than this morning when, at St. Joseph's church, a band of little boys and girls approached for the first time the altar of the lowly Christ, who so often during his earthly pilgrimage expressed a desire to have the little innocent children ever near Him.

At the early hour of 7:30 a goodly number of interested spectators as well as the members of the congregation had gathered in the church to witness this most beautiful and most impressive of sights—the spotless altar brilliantly aglow with lights shed soft and radiant beams on the little flower-like faces as they knelt, during the celebration of Mass with bowed heads and folded hands. Fragrant blossoms adorned Our Lady's altar, a silent but eloquent tribute to the Immaculate Virgin who is everywhere known and revered as "The Queen of May."

To the organ's soft pealing, and the young ladies' sweet singing the procession filed slowly up the long aisle, the little boys leading followed by the girls, reminding one of lilies, fair and beautiful, simply attired in gowns of purest white and graceful veils. Even the most curious on-looker could not be otherwise than impressed while the most interested ones bowed down in silent adoration, and fervent prayer mingled with grateful tears, as they knelt, during the celebration of Mass with bowed heads and folded hands. Fragrant blossoms adorned Our Lady's altar, a silent but eloquent tribute to the Immaculate Virgin who is everywhere known and revered as "The Queen of May."

TEAMSTER WAS CARELESSLY DRIVING

As a result of the accident on Twenty-fourth street and Washington avenue, Sunday afternoon, in which Mrs. Kate Cragan was rendered unconscious, J. Dalton, a teamster, appeared in police court this morning and pleaded guilty to the charge of reckless driving.

Mr. Dalton stated that at the time of the accident he was not looking up the street, but had turned to talk to his companion and did not know that there had been an accident until he was told of the affair by the police. He admitted that he was careless at the moment, but said that would never have continued on his way after the accident had he known of its occurrence.

W. Cragan, the husband, related the circumstances concerning the accident and stated that, although Mrs. Cragan was not seriously hurt, her injuries are such that she will be compelled to remain in bed for some days.

Judge W. H. Reeder took the case under advisement. Mr. Dalton stated that he would like to make all the restitution possible for his carelessness.

KARTYE HAS A BIG NAME IN CHICAGO

The front page of the Chicago News of last Friday contains a large picture of Ernest Kartye who is to meet Henry Irslinger in Ogden. With the picture is this story of the coming contest:

"Ernest Kartye of Chicago has been matched with Henry Irslinger, middle weight wrestling champion of England, for a finish encounter May 15 at Ogden, Utah. The contest will have resulted from persistent challenges of the English champion, who has been defeating all comers since last December, when he landed in New York."

"Irslinger has defeated all the crack middle weights in the east and recently downed Anderson, the champion of the northwest. He is confident of defeating Kartye and readily agreed to the terms of the rising young Chicago grappler."

"Kartye will depart for the land of the Mormons Saturday night and will begin systematic training for the match, which will force several other well known middle weights out of their shells. Emil Klank, manager of Kartye, will leave Chicago for the scene of the battle Tuesday night."

Both men close to weight limit. "Both wrestlers are near the middle weight limit, according to announcements from their managers, and each will be required to tip the scales at 155 pounds at 3 p. m. on the day of the match."

"Ernest Kartye is considered by the majority of mat followers as the future world's middle weight champion. He has steadily progressed from a green amateur in the turner grappling championships until he has reached the top of the list of the professional middle weights."

"Kartye had Walter Willoughby,

the crack Cleveland middle weight wrestler, nearly out in a sixty minute match at the Chicago Athletic association in January. He had repeatedly challenged Henry Gehring of Cleveland and Mike Yokel of Salt Lake City, Utah, but these wrestlers seemed to want nothing of the Chicagoan's game and had repeatedly ignored him.

Klank Lauds His Protege. "Kartye is the greatest wrestler in the world at his weight, and I have assumed his management to boost him along," declared Klank. "He defeated all comers in the C. A. A. tournament and is the legitimate American champion."

"Irslinger is a tough customer and is confident he will pin Kartye in straight falls. I know something about the relative ability of these wrestlers, however, and I expect Kartye to defeat the Englishman after a hard tussle."

"I wouldn't make the long jump from Chicago to Ogden, Utah, unless I was fairly certain Kartye would down this fellow. I am on the war-path for Yokel, who holds the title by defeating Gehring."

Irslinger Popular in Ogden. "Irslinger defeated one of the best wrestlers in the northwest at Ogden and is popular there. I figure if Kartye defeats Irslinger in Utah the west-erners will demand that Yokel battle the winner for the world's title. I will take Kartye into Salt Lake City, Yokel's home town, and put him on there until Yokel comes to terms and signs the articles for a finish battle. The winner then can claim the world's title."

"Kartye is a product of Chicago turner gymnasiums and has fought his way into the limelight by hard work and perseverance and he is taking good care of himself. He is considered to be one of the few square wrestlers and has thousands of friends among the amateur ranks from which he has arisen."

TRIED TO BURN STOLEN PURSE

With a purse and silver cup, said to have been taken from the home of Mrs. Lettie Maginnis, 2371 Washington avenue, in his possession Peter Butler was caught after a chase last night by George and Thomas Wilson and is being held at the city jail on an open charge.

The Wilson brothers had visited their new store on West Twenty-eighth street and saw smoke coming from a basement window. Investigating, they found Butler trying to burn up the purse and contents.

Butler ran from the building and did not stop until exhausted by his pursuers. It was not known until after the man was caught and the articles examined that the home of Mrs. Maginnis had been entered. When Mrs. Maginnis was communicated with, she stated that the man probably entered while she was taking a nap in the afternoon.

OGDEN PACKING COMPANY'S RECEPTION

The Ogden Packing & Provision company has sent out cards announcing open house day tomorrow at the plant. Friends and customers are invited to visit the plant and see it in full operation.

Free conveyance will be furnished every few minutes, starting from Washington avenue and Twenty-fourth street, going direct to the plant.

Refreshments will be served from 11:30 p. m. until 5 p. m. A special invitation has been extended to the ladies of Ogden to visit the plant tomorrow, because the housewives should be most interested in the pure food features to be seen. The sanitary arrangements at the Packing house should prove a revelation.
